

KANSAS WOMEN'S GOLF ROCK CHALK GOLF TALK / FALL 2023

Head Coach - Lindsay Kuhle

What a fall season for the Jayhawks! We are incredibly proud of how this entire team came out ready to compete this fall season starting with the UNM Dick McGuire Invitational in Albuquerque. Their record setting performance in the final round to finish second was something we have never seen here at KU firing a -14 final round score with rounds of 67, 68, 69, and 70 . This team has so much talent, a strong work ethic, and competitiveness that has helped push each other to achieve greatness and become an elite college women's golf team in the country . Individually, Jordan Rothman won the Denver Ron Moore Invitational with another record setting performance while playing with great confidence and composure this entire fall season. She set the lowest individual fall stroke average in program history and individual 54 hole scoring record. Our entire team broke many records as well and had the best fall season, with highest team ranking and team stroke average in 50 years! Not only did the ladies excel on the golf course this season by reaching a top 20 ranking in Golfweek Rankings in September, but they managed the travel, time away from Lawrence, involvement in the community and outside of golf extremely well, particularly in the classroom. We are expected to achieve our academic goals as well this fall of striving for a 3.75 team grade point average. As the head coach of this program, I could not be more proud and pleased with how our ladies represented KU and appreciate their passion, work ethic, and belief in where we're headed. Thank you all for your wonderful support for these ladies.
